Proposed Sale of Computacenter GmbH, Austria to S&T System Integration & Technology Distribution AG

Computacenter plc, the European IT infrastructure services provider, today announces that it has reached agreement to sell its Austrian subsidiary, Computacenter GmbH, to S&T System Integration & Technology Distribution AG.

Computacenter GmbH employs 220 people in offices in Vienna, Linz, Salzburg, Graz, Klagenfurt and Innsbruck.

As at 31 December 2003, Computacenter GmbH had a net asset value of Euro2.7 million. The disposal of the company is not material to Computacenter plc or its German operations. Completion of the disposal, which is subject to certain regulatory approvals, is expected in February 2005.

In addition, S&T will become Computacenter's International Partner for service delivery in Austria and those countries across Central & Eastern Europe where Computacenter does not have an existing service delivery partner. This will extend Computacenter's international service relationships to over 110 countries worldwide.
